

EDITORIAL NOTE

This year marks the 10th anniversary of Polyolefins Journal (POJ) publication and we are proud to celebrate its 10th year of publication in 2023. This occasion gives us a great opportunity to express our sincere appreciation to all the authors, reviewers and editors whose valuable contribution and support have made the timely publication of the journal issues possible from the starting issue since 2014.

During these ten years, POJ was published twice a year, leading to the publication of small numbers of articles a year that were not enough for the journal to be indexed in WOS. But we conformed to standards and insisted on quality that resulted in indexing in reliable databases such as Scopus, DOAJ, etc. The path of growth has continued with a low but positive slope and today we are happy to announce that we have become a “Quarterly Journal”. We consider this as a sign of trust of the authors and we appreciate them all.

We believe that the difficult years have passed and the growth vector of the journal is climbing, and this would not have been materialized without the trust of colleagues in submitting their new findings related to polyolefins to POJ. With this support, we are going to start the second decade, hoping to see more progress in Polyolefins Journal day by day with you.

For this anniversary, we had invited experts active in the field of polyolefin to contribute to the anniversary issue, which is now in front of you. We would like to thank the experts who accepted our invitation and contributed to the publication of this issue.
